

Shareholders Communications Coalition – Email Alert
October 22, 2008

The U.S. House Financial Services Committee held a hearing yesterday on the future of financial regulation. As a part of this hearing process, the Shareholder Communications Coalition submitted a letter advocating for a comprehensive review of the current proxy voting and communications system.

This letter has been posted on the Coalition's website (www.shareholdercoalition.com). You can access this letter through the following link:

If you want to read the Member statements and witness testimony for this House of Representatives hearing, you can click on this link to go to the Coalition's Congressional Action page: <http://www.shareholdercoalition.com/congress.html>

Thank you for your support of the Shareholder Communications Coalition.

As this is the Coalition's first Email Alert, all feedback is welcome. Send an email to info@shareholdercoalition.com
