Subject: Coalition Comment Letter to the SEC

The Shareholder Communications Coalition (“Coalition”) filed its Concept Release comment letter on October 20, 2010, and the SEC has posted it to its comment letter file. You can click on the following link to review this Coalition letter:

The Coalition’s comment letter responds to the issues presented by the SEC in its Concept Release on the U.S. proxy system, issued on July 14, 2010. Here is a link to this SEC Release: <http://www.sec.gov/rules/concept/2010/34-62495fr.pdf>

If you are interested in reviewing the more than 145 comments letters which have been filed so far, click on the following link to the SEC’s comment letter file:

<http://www.sec.gov/comments/s7-14-10/s71410.shtml>

Comment letters are still being filed and a member of the SEC staff has indicated to the Coalition that the agency will review and consider letters sent after the October 20 deadline.

Any public company or organization with an interest in proxy infrastructure issues is encouraged to submit a comment letter in support of any of your associations or the Coalition, so that the SEC hears from every party involved in the U.S. proxy system.

If you need more information about how to send a comment letter or want to learn more about the Coalition, send an email to me at nholch@holcherickson.com or visit the Coalition website at www.shareholdercoalition.com

Thank you for your interest in the Shareholder Communications Coalition.
