

This Proxy Process Flow diagram is intended to be a general, representative overview of the proxy flow process and the role of Institutional Shareholder Services in that process. It is not intended to fully document every aspect of the proxy voting process and may not be representative of the process in every market or jurisdiction or for every situation.